Our Washington Letter.

Special to the REPUBLICAN. WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15, '76 That "troubles never come singly" has been proven in the case of the Bourbon Democracy within the past two months. Tilden was no sooner nominated than a record which would not bear a very close inspection was unrolled to the gaze of a multitude of enemies and friends. The former needed no microscope to detect the false character of charlatan who was nominated because of his financial soundness and his exceptional exploits as a "reformer." This record was remorselessly scrutinized and it was established beyond civil or dispute that he stood with the copperhead party in opposition to "coercion" and to the war for the preservation of the Union. It was ascertained that he had, as is alleged and generally believed committed perjury to avoid paying his allotted share of the expense of a war precipitated by the political party of which he was recognized as a leader. He was found charged with having appropriated to his own use, thousands of dollars, committed to his custody as a sacred trust. He was openly accused of having swindled thousands of laboring men out of the fruits of their labors by the fraudulent issue of shingleplasters. He was known to have been intimately associated with a ring of the worst knaves that ever disgraced the political annals of New York city. He forfeited the respect and confidence of every friend of hard money by his disgraceful capitulation to the repudiators of the West in order to secure their support in his race for the Presidency. His "reform" pretensions have been shown to be so inconsistent with the practice of a life time, and the traditions of his party which he has followed with the bigotry and blind zeal of a devotee that the very term "reform" has come to be regarded as a synonym for the cunning of tricksters. Northern States were selected as experimental grounds, where it was proposed to overcome the intelligent convictions of the masses in their hostility to the rebel copperhead party, by the unostentatious use of money. Vermont and Maine have spoken in thunder tones in denunciation of the quack pretender in the attempt made to debauch the voters of those States. So reckless, and confident were the managers in New York State, that their nominating convention two weeks ago, Mr. Dorchester was snubbed and insulted by the leaders because he had once belonged to the party of loyalty and progress, and they greeted the nomination of Horatio Seymour, with a shout of approval almost as savage as that with which he was cheered when he identified himself with the ferocious mob in 1863 by addressing the murderers and incendiaries of which it was composed as "my friends." Two weeks later they were driven by stress of circumstances to accept another renegade Republican as their leader. In Massachusetts they attempted to mask their sinister designs under the cloak of Mr. Adams' respectability, who twelve short months before was a candidate for Republican honors. The explanations that have been offered of Mr. Tilden's alleged perjury are so trifling as to only beget contempt for the inventors' poverty of resources. The latest cause of apprehension is found in the invasion of Ohio and Indiana by the men who are fresh from their victories in Vermont and Maine. The leaders are covering before the the blows which they expect to receive and which they know they deserve. An encouraging report by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has been made to the effect that the receipts of his office will be several million in excess of the estimates made at the annual report in December. This fact only confirms the general testimony from all points, showing a healthy revival in the business of the whole country. There are complaints of inadequate force in many of the bureaus of the Departments. I presume much of the delay in the work at present is due to the demoralization that has existed since it became known that a wholesale reduction was contemplated. But there is no doubt that the discharges made will be seriously felt in a few weeks. The Pension Office has been removed from its old quarters near 7th street to its new location at the corner of 12th street and Pennsylvania Avenue. Secretary Morrill who is still in Maine, has received the heartiest commendations of business men, for the excellent judgment and tact displayed in handling the new loan. General Sherman holds to the belief that before next Spring the hostile Indians will have been so thoroughly thrashed that a recurrence of our present war will never happen. He and Secretary Cameron are on a tour of inspection in the West. Political intelligence from the West continues of the most cheering character as it also does from North Carolina.

MAXWELL. GRAND REPUBLICAN RALLY!!

A GRAND REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING WILL BE HELD AT THE COURT HOUSE, TIONESTA, PA., ON TUESDAY EVE, SEPT. 26. ALL ARE INVITED.

Gen. Harry White AND Hon. J. H. Osmer, of Franklin, and other good speakers will address the meeting. Come out, Republicans and do honor to the honorable men who are your candidates for positions of trust, and let the people see that you are steadfast and earnest in your support of Hayes and Wheeler and honest Government.

Come out, yo who are "on the fence," and hear the truths that will land you on the side of Principle and Right, and lead you to vote for Hayes and Wheeler, the advocates of true Reform, and not been companions with Tweed Morrissey, and Wall Street gamblers. Come out, Democrats, and hear the whole truth, and turn from the errors of your ways. Hayes and Wheeler are the men you had ought to vote for, and we will prove it to you. Come out, everybody, and we will do you good.

THE TWO PARTIES.

The history of the two parties is well known to the country. For the past fifteen years the history of Republicanism has been like an open book, to be read by all men. Nothing has been concealed. Its record is a chapter of political fidelity never before equaled. If in the performance of its marvelous work it has developed a few faults, they are, when compared with its virtues, like the spots on the face of the sun, too infinitesimal to excite alarm or command attention except by the students of science: Double the labors of the responsibilities of the whole history of the Government previous to 1861, and they fall short of the work performed by the Republican party. Think, for a moment, of the magnificent results of its policy. A sound currency, safe everywhere; public credit higher than ever before in the markets of the world; a wise homestead system that has given free farms to millions; the settlement of the vexed San Juan boundary question and the Alabama deprecation claim against England; advantageous treaties with nearly every civilized nation, and humane laws, executed in a spirit of justice, are a few of the results that go to make up the grandest political record of the century. Can any unprejudiced mind review this record and allow himself, for a single moment, to believe that a party that has been so true to the people's interests, that has been instrumental in saving the nation, can now prove untrue to the Republic that lives to-day because of its fidelity and courage? What can be said of the Democracy? What good thing has it done during the past twenty years? The people know what bad things it has done, but none of its defenders have, as yet, presented anything worthy of commendation. It has been a stumbling block in the path of national progress. It opposed the war for the Union; the emancipation of the slaves; the vital amendments to the Constitution; the protection of the freedman; the present currency system; the collection of the revenue, and is on record against nearly every measure proposed for the relief and protection of the people and the advancement of the nation. What good thing has it done? The people wait for the answer, but they will wait long before this question can be replied to. The misrule of the city of New York; its enormous debt; the millions stolen by Democratic leaders; the ascendancy of ignorance and vice are but the shadows of misrule that would characterize the nation under Democratic government. We appeal to every man who loves his country to lay aside pretty prejudices in this hour of trial, and to pass judgment upon the merits of the men and the parties they represent. In the presence of a public danger private disputes must be laid aside. The welfare of the nation, the peace and security of its citizens, the public credit, the liberties of millions who look to this Republic for example and hope, depend upon the success of the Republican party. Let every friend of his country respond to the call made upon him. Let him labor as if on his efforts depended the result. An earnest worker can accomplish much. He can convince the doubtful, strengthen the weak, and encourage all to work and vote. It needs not the gift of eloquence to advance a good cause. An honest purpose and the courage to advocate the right will invite the blessings of Providence and win success.—Republican.
